Play moves us in many ways and is the highest form of expression. It makes us laugh, move, connect, feel joy, learn, grow and be part of something bigger. PLAY THAT MOVES YOU

PLAY THAT MOVES YOU.®

RESEARCH

Research brings together design, play experience, development and connection. It allows us to design products and spaces that create community, equity and comfort for people of all ages, abilities, preferences and backgrounds. Through research, we seek to gain insights and answer important questions that will help us bring the best in play to the communities we serve. We do research with some of the most respected practitioners and organizations in the industry and are proud to bring research-based design into all aspects of play.

DESIGN

Intelligently designed spaces serve the entire community. They are inclusive, universally designed and make everyone feel a sense of belonging. Age-appropriate play, intergenerational engagement and spaces for socialization, adventure, awe, game play, development and connection are all part of well-thought-out product and playspace design. Usability, replay value, play variety and multiple challenge levels all factor into an overall design that provides everyone with a place they are comfortable, can develop and gain confidence through play.

INNOVATION

Innovations change the way people interact with the world around them. Increased equity, usability, fun, engagement and ease of use are all results of innovations in outdoor play, fitness and recreation equipment. Brava® Universal Swing, Innova®, 360 Loop®, Nucleus Evolution®, Evolution 360 Inclusive Climber and Nucleus Aspire® are changing the way children experience play – each provides more adventure, more awe, more independence and gives kids and communities the best play experience.

PLAY THAT MOVES YOU.®

DEVELOPMENT

Through play, children develop socially, emotionally, physically, cognitively, creatively and communicatively. The outdoor spaces we love cultivate communities by providing a place to gather and something to be proud of. They help nurture a passion for the outdoors and the greenspaces in our communities, and what we are passionate about, we protect. The development fostered through play is like none other, and it's one of the most important ways we all develop into our best selves.

CONNECTION

Connecting people to their communities, to the outdoors and to themselves is one of the most important aspects of play. At all ages and stages of life, connection is important. It improves our mental health, outlook on life and physical health and gives us a support system within our community. Outdoor spaces foster connections, community pride and engagement for everyone, and that is a pillar of Play That Moves You for all.

WELLNESS

Outdoor recreational spaces promote the overall wellness of a community. Physical, mental and economic wellbeing are positively impacted by the presence of these places within communities. Higher graduation rates and property values combined with lower obesity rates and instances of high blood pressure are just some of the ways outdoor spaces add to the quality of life for communities.

TRENDS IN PLAY

Inclusive Play

BRINGING INCLUSIVE PLAY TO A NEW LEVEL

Play equity brings the transformational power of play to people of diverse abilities, backgrounds and experiences. Playgrounds are often the first places kids learn to climb, slide, play games, rock and play independently. For children with varying abilities, playing independently is just as important but not always available in traditional environments. New innovations in products, spaces and designs bring inclusion to a new level.

TRENDS IN PLAY

Adventure Play

EVERYDAY AWE

Adventure play is a trend that is crucial to keeping children off screens and engaging them in active, outdoor play. Adventure is often paired with awe, and bringing awe into everyday life increases mental and physical well-being, gives us a sense of wonder and encourages future exploration.

PRESCHOOL PLAY

Ages 2-5

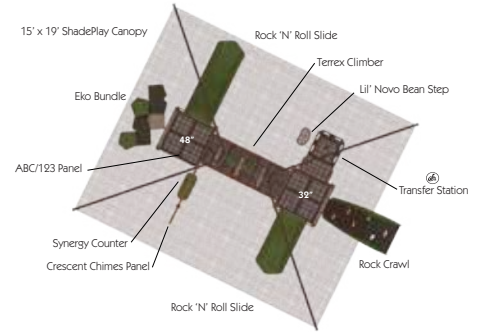

Play for preschoolers is vital to their development and fosters creativity, social skills and cognitive growth. During these formative years, children engage in various types of play — physical, social, creative and cognitive — that allow them to explore their environment, learn problem-solving skills, develop emotional resilience and practice cooperation. Emphasizing play in early childhood enriches children's experiences and enhances their overall development. Visit bciburke.com/designs to browse our playground structures.

COLOR SELECTION

NATURAL COLORS

Natural colors are used primarily to blend into their natural surroundings, like wooded or grassy areas. These color schemes stereotypically include more earth tone colors, but can also embrace unexpected, brighter colors that coordinate well with them. Consider using blues, greens and variations of those colors for a more modern, calm feeling in your playspace that will incorporate into the environment well, but not be camouflaged by its surroundings.

BRIGHT COLORS

A brightly colored playspace will stimulate senses, create a sense of happiness and keep children engaged. When a space looks fun and inviting, kids will stay and play longer. In a community, bright colors can invigorate and attract people to the space and keep them coming back.

CALM COLORS

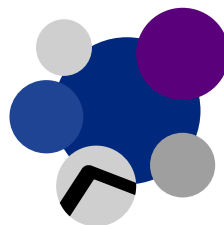

Calm colors create a sense of serenity. This can be beneficial in a playspace for children with special needs or sensitivities who need a place to escape to. Combined with the right play components, a calming color theme with subdued and neutral colors gives the user an environment in which they can explore and feel relaxed to play at their own pace.

MODERN COMBINATIONS

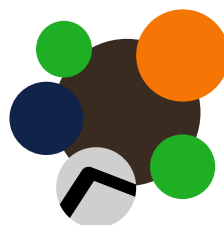

Modern color schemes convey freshness and can be calm, bright or natural. These color schemes tend to feel comfortable and can keep up with recent trends or can be timely combinations. Coordinating colors with surroundings or architectural pieces nearby can really bring an entire space together.
